Read the descriptions below and then draw and color the mythical creature

The unicorn was actually thought to have the body of a horse, the legs of an elephant, the tale of a boar, and of course, the single, long horn coming from its forehead.	The kraken was described as a giant octopus-like creature that could wrap itself around ocean ships and drag them to the bottom. It was thought to produce deadly whirlpools.
The yeti, or abominable snowman, was a huge, two-legged, ape-like creature that roamed the snowy Himalayan Range of Nepal. Some have reported it to have at least some human qualities.	The loch ness monster was said to be a giant serpent or ancient plesiosaur that lives in the bottom of Loch Ness in Scotland. Photographs have shown something in the lake with a long neck and a hump protruding from the water.
