

Where in the USA is Mr. N?

Rationale: Where in the USA is Mr. N is a great way for students to practice location-based USA geography. Designed to delve deeper into the nation's character than the state identification games, Where in the USA is Mr. N helps students learn capitals, cities, and famous places in America.

How to Play: Students choose from state capitals, cities, or famous places. They have two minutes to identify the state location of as many places as possible. Different places are assigned different point levels depending on their level of difficulty. For example, "Atlanta" would be worth one point if the student clicked "Georgia" while "Helena" might be worth three points.

URL: <https://www.mrnussbaum.com/where-2/> (or, deployed on MrN 365)

From this page, students can click "play game" to immediately play, or, can watch an instructional video.

Notes: This game can be played on any device, although desktops and tablets are the most practical.

Mastery: Generally, I consider a score of 30 or above to show mastery.