

China Scavenger Hunt Version 2

For use with the China Interactive Map

Name _____

1. With a population of over 17.4 million, _____, China, is the largest city in China, and one of the largest in the world.
2. China's famous Giant Pandas are entirely dependent on _____ stalks that grow in its mountain forests. China loves its pandas! Zoos that house pandas must pay over _____ dollars per year!
3. China's _____ River is the world's third largest river. At _____ miles in length, it serves as one of the world's busiest waterways and connects the coastal cities with points in the interior.
4. At 29,028 feet high, _____ is the world's highest mountain. It is one of many tall peaks in the _____ Range. It sits directly on the border of China and _____.
5. The Chinese name for Mt. Everest translates to _____.
6. Guangzhou, once called Canton, is the birthplace of _____ - one of the two major languages spoken in China. The other major language is known as _____.
7. The _____ river is home to the endangered Giant Mekong Catfish. These catfish can grow to over 600 pounds!