

Civil War Figure Nicknames

Many of the central figures in the American Civil War had intriguing nicknames which have stuck with them long after their deaths. For example, Ulysses S. Grant was sometimes referred to as “Unconditional Surrender” Grant after the Union victory at Fort Donelson, Tennessee. Read the nicknames listed below and draw your interpretation of what an individual with that name would look like.

Person and Nickname	Drawing
Abraham Lincoln “The Great Emancipator”
Thomas J. Jackson “Stonewall Jackson”
Ulysses S. Grant “Unconditional Surrender Grant”
Jeb Stuart “The Eyes of the Confederacy”
Robert E. Lee “The King of Spades”	